

New Jersey Superfund Sites on the National Priorities List as of February 1, 1999

In 1980, Congress enacted the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA), commonly known as the Superfund, in response to the dangers of uncontrolled or abandoned contaminated sites. CERCLA was amended in 1986 by the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act (SARA). CERCLA and SARA require that a National Priorities List (NPL) of sites throughout the United States be maintained and revised at least annually. As of 2/1/99, New Jersey had 107 active sites on the NPL, two sites proposed for inclusion, and 16 sites deleted from the NPL.

Either the state agency (NJDEP) or the federal agency (USEPA) is designated as the lead for each Superfund site. NJDEP and USEPA conduct and oversee cleanups at Superfund sites with both public and private funds. The lead agency maintains direct oversight of the work on the site and has the most current and detailed information about the status of cleanup.

National Priorities List (Superfund) Sites in New Jersey added after June 30, 1998

Federal Creosote Company Manville Borough, Somerset County

This site was officially added to the National Priorities List on January 19, 1999. For a site description, see page 231.

Middlesex Sampling Plant Middlesex Borough, Middlesex County

This site was officially added to the National Priorities List on January 19, 1999. The Middlesex Sampling Plant functioned as a radioactive ore sampling, storage and shipping facility between 1943 and 1967. As a result of these operations, the building and soils at the plant and land in the vicinity were contaminated with radioactive substances. The entire site consists of three subsites where radioactive materials are present: the Middlesex Municipal Landfill Pile, the Vicinity Property Pile and Facility Soils. The Middlesex Municipal Landfill is owned by the Borough of Middlesex, and removal of the radioactive materials from this subsite was completed in 1986. The Vicinity Pile subsite consists of radioactive soil and materials excavated from vicinity properties and a drainage ditch to the south of the plant, and the Facility Soils subsite consists of soils situated on the plant property. The United States Department of Energy is working in conjunction with USEPA to conduct a remedial investigation and cleanup of the sites.

Sherwin Williams Property - Route 561 Dump Site Gibbsboro Borough, Camden County

This site was proposed for addition to the National Priorities List on July 28, 1998. The site was previously used as a paint waste disposal area. NJDEP investigated the property in 1994 and found inorganic compounds in soils and a wetland area. Sampling conducted by USEPA in 1995 confirmed the presence of inorganic compounds in on-site soils and downstream sediments. The Potentially Responsible Party is conducting an investigation to determine the extent of the contamination at the site under the oversight of USEPA.

Sherwin Williams Property - United States Avenue Burn Site Gibbsboro Borough, Camden County

This site was proposed for addition to the National Priorities List on September 29, 1998. This site consists of three areas of contamination: the Burn Area, the Burn Landfill and the railroad track. The Burn Area was used as a disposal and burn site for paint wastes generated at the Sherwin Williams manufacturing facility. The Burn Landfill was used for the disposal of paint wastes, municipal wastes and for the storage of paint waste sludges. NJDEP conducted an initial investigation in 1994 that confirmed contamination of the soils at the sites and in the sediments of the nearby White Sand Branch stream. Paint wastes were later determined to have been disposed of along the railroad track. Sherwin Williams entered into an Administrative Consent Order with USEPA in 1995 to perform a Removal Action Investigation of the site.
